Woman Who Helped Police
Ate Drugged Candy.

FIRST VICTIM'S CONCIERGE

French Thieves Had Slain and Robbed
Dutch Lodger in Her House.

PARIS, Jan. 27.—A murder mystery in which poisoned chocolates were the chosen means of vengeance is puzzling the Paris police.

Last August a Dutchman named Florimondus, living in the Rue de Temple, was found murdered in his room. All his belongings, including jewelry, were missing. The police succeeded in arresting three suspected men, thanks to the aid of Mme. Viale, the concierge of the murdered man's house.

Mme. Viale, a young and pretty woman, went out yesterday evening to visit one of her neighbors. She was eating chocolate creams which, she explained, had been given to her as a present. She was in the best of health and good spirits.

While talking to her companion she took the last chocolate from the box and placed it in her mouth. She had swallowed a portion of it, when she exclaimed that it was bad.

Her suspicions of poison were apparently at once aroused. She ran home and sent her husband for a doctor, who, however, arrived too late to help her. Two hours after eating the chocolate she died in terrible convulsions.

The post-mortem examination leaves little doubt as to the presence of some poison in the sweets. There is no clue whatever as to who gave the chocolates to Mme. Viale, but it is thought that her death was due to revenge on the part of some friends of the men accused of the murder of Florimondus.

CORNELIUS VANDERBILT BECOMES A COMMODORE

Young Millionaire Would Rival Nautical Fame Achieved by His Father.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—"Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt." That sounds good and natural to old-timers. The new commodore he is said to be more like the "old commodore" than any of the House of Vanderbilt since its founder passed away.

Commodore Cornelius II gets his entitlement from the fact that he is now senior flag officer of the New York Yacht Club. It is his purpose to be something more than an ornamental officer. He is now fitting out his big ship, Rainbow, for an active campaign and has engaged Capt. Charley Barr to take charge of her. If this means anything, it means that Commodore Vanderbilt has it in mind to annex cups this season.

Commodore Vanderbilt's steamer North Star is now on the Clyde, where some changes are being made. She will come to this side early in the spring. It is also reported that Commodore Vanderbilt is having a fast power boat built, with which he will race whenever he has a chance.

'T'WAS HER OWN DIVORCE SHE HAD TO TRANSCRIBE

Pretty Clerk for Her First Morning's
Work Given Her Own Application to Copy.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 27.—"You will please transcribe this application for divorce as your first work. Be careful."

The head clerk in the transcribing room of the Allegheny county courthouse made this remark this morning as he handed some papers to a new clerk. The new clerk was a neat little woman of twenty-eight years, and the clerk wondered why she stared at him so hard, and why her eyes filled with tears.

He did not know that he had asked Mrs. Lillian W. Lake to transcribe her own application for divorce, but such was the case.

Mrs. Lake has taken a place at $5 per month to support her five children, while she is waiting for divorce from her husband, Prof. Willard Geoffrey Lake.

NOVEL ON ENGLISH WAR EXCITING GERMAN NAVY

BERLIN, Jan. 27.—A new book entitled "Beowulf"—a vision of a naval officer—has created a sensation here. There is no doubt that the work is written by a naval expert of high rank, and many think to recognize it in the style of Count Ernest von Reventlow. It proves in the most convincing manner that a war between England and Germany would be a disaster. It would result in total destruction of the commerce of the two countries and, though Great Britain might crush the German navy, neither would be able to win a decisive victory.

Woman Wages War On Blowing of Whistles

Would Abate Nuisance, She Declares—In the Interest of the Sick and Dying—To Fix Responsibility.

FOR THE SICK AND DYING.

It is in the interest of between 13,000 and 14,000 sick and dying patients in the various hospitals of New York that we are making such a strenuous effort to have this nuisance abated.

MRS. ISAAC L. RICE.

Mrs. Isaac L. Rice, of New York, who has come to Washington for the purpose of obtaining relief from the unnecessary blowing of whistles in New York harbor, is having a stiff fight, but manifestly means to succeed in gaining her point.

The chief difficulty with Mrs. Rice's plan is the fact that the authorities of New York city and the Federal Government are playing a sort of game of cat-and-mouse. In New York the office of the corporation counsel tells Mrs. Rice that there is no statute of the State which regulates the blowing of steam whistles. She was told the only way to remedy the evil was to appeal to Washington. This she has done and Washington tells her the authority is in New York.

Between the two Mrs. Rice is interesting the New York delegation in Congress and when the current hearings before the board of supervising steamboat inspectors are over, it is barely possible that Congressional action will be taken.

In speaking of the case today Mrs. Rice said: "We are not making a fight against the series of signals required by law, but against the ear-splitting and continuous blowing of convenience signals."

"It is in the interest of between 13,000 and 14,000 sick and dying patients in the various hospitals of New York that we are making such a strong effort to have this nuisance abated."

"Tug boat captains who have been on the river the greater part of their life declare their signals to each other are directed for the purpose of safety. Everybody knows that if two boats are approaching each other both will go to right. If anything has happened that one could not pursue this course."

CHICAGO IS NATION'S GREAT DIVORCE MILL

Windy City Couples Indulge in Acrimonious Argument and Establish Record for Their Home Town—Lecturer Says Marriage Is Game of Chance.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—W. L. Bodine, superintendent of compulsory education, last night said Chicago leads all the cities of the United States in the number of divorces granted. He delivered an address at the regular meeting of the men's club of the Church of the Atonement in Edgewater on the subject of "Divorce."

"Chicago leads in everything—including divorce," said he. "It is the 'divorce city,' and more divorces are issued here every year than in any other metropolis in the world. Illinois has been at the head of the list among the sisterhood of States in divorces granted since 1867, followed by Ohio and Indiana. Divorce is simply the death of love, when hatred becomes palpable. It has increased coincident with the advance of women in industrialism, since woman has broken away from economic dependence on man."

Is Here to Stay.
"Divorce is here to stay. It cannot be eliminated, but it can be held in check. Both divorce and remarriage should be restricted to the lowest possible minimum for the sake of children."

"Marriage is the greatest game of chance in the world. Fates are shuffled in the deal and aces are dealt. Sometimes hearts are trumps, at other times diamonds. Some people prefer clubs as the trump, to live together and fight it out after marriage until the game ends, as life ends, with a spade. One great trouble is that too many people wear the mask in courtship. The axiom should be 'man, know man, and woman, know the man,' before marriage."

Cause of Grief.
"Too many men marry the woman beautiful instead of the woman dutiful. The average duration of marriage is over 300,000 divorce cases in two decades was nine years. It will thus be seen that the small child's happiness in life is often affected by divorce."

"The many people go on the theory that love is a disease and marriage the only cure for it and then they believe the only cure for matrimony is divorce. It is true that divorce is increasing, but with all its cases of mis-matched individualism America has more happy marriages than any nation in the world—more marriages where love and honor and fidelity blend in blessed concord to maintain the social unit of the American home."

SHERIFF TERRORIZED, RESIGNS HIS OFFICE

Rigid Boycott of Austrian Official Is Ended by Malcontents in Hungary.

VIENNA, Jan. 27.—M. Gustav Kovacs, who was attacked by a mob at Debreceen yesterday and dangerously injured on arriving to take up his position as high sheriff, has resigned his position.

The revolt of the people against the appointments made by the February government grows, and several other sheriffs have resigned rather than face the fury of the mob.

"Hungary shall not be governed by an Austrian clique," is the battle cry of the rebels, and the government is powerless to enforce recognition of its nominees.

The situation is made all the more difficult by the fact that municipal authorities in Hungary are aiding the revolt by every means in their power, and the local police are always absent from the scenes of rioting.

For some days before the arrival of M. Kovacs in Debreceen the following placard was prominently displayed all over the town:

To the liberty-loving population.—No one in Debreceen shall help the setting up of an unconstitutional government. No cabman shall drive him, no hotelkeeper serve him, no shopman sell to him. His money is Judean money.

"He shall hunger and thirst like a beast in the desert, and must be destroyed, with the hands which help him. Citizens, act accordingly!"

PROPOSED TUNNEL WILL DOOM HORSESHOE CURVE

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 27.—The Horseshoe curve is doomed, as the Pennsylvania railroad intends to cut a tunnel under the Allegheny mountains, to be the second longest in the world, and to cost $15,000,000.

then a signal would certainly be necessary. "If the captains of these boats only kept to the signals required by law that would be bad enough, but the scows coming up the harbor start blowing their whistles two miles down and continue right up to their piers. This is to wake up their crews and warn them to make ready to get out."

"These shrieks can be heard at a distance of thirteen and a half miles, so one can readily understand how the stock people of New York are molested. I have the testimony of captains of scows and of river boats saying that the multiplicity of signals tends to promote collisions. This in itself should be sufficient to bring about some sort of reform."

An All-Round Menace.
"For the purpose of presenting the matter in a sane light, I have gathered together the testimony of hospital boards, showing it is a menace to health and of river men regarding the menace to navigation."

"I have statements of superintendents of hospitals and allied institutions, showing strong indorsement from the board of health, statements from some of New York's most noted physicians and editorially in the medical journals and daily press, all pointing out the ill effect these whistles have on sick people."

"In addition to these, the Marine Journal has taken up the matter because of the menace to navigation."

"I wish it were in my power to make everybody know the misery these whistles cause. The poor, sick people in the hospitals who should be kept as quiet and peaceful as possible, are compelled to lie in their beds day and night and be harrowed with this additional trouble. It is a general persecution, and I hope some Congressional action will result."

HELLERTOWN, Pa., Jan. 27.—"If women would stay at home and observe the duties of housekeeping instead of running off to revivals, they would make more happiness in this world and accomplish the will of the Lord," shouted Justice of the Peace DeBergh at a revival meeting here last night.

The congregation gasped. The men smiled, while the women looked horrified.

Justice DeBergh kept up his tirade. He told the story of a woman whose husband had asked him to excommunicate her out of the house, as his wife, in a religious fervor, forgot to cook his meals and made him wear socks which were full of holes.

Mrs. George Sloyer is the woman. She had been a member of the village church for 20 years, and had been a member of the church for 20 years.

The husband prayed to a justice, and now has his wife's promise that she will stay at home and observe the duties of housekeeping.

ALBANY, Jan. 27.—The protest filed with the Secretary of State against the filing in his office of the certificate of incorporation of the Interborough Metropolitan company, just chartered to serve as a holding company for the New York city street car merger, will not have any effect here.

The certificate of incorporation of the company has been filed, and the chief of the corporations bureau of the office of the Secretary of State found that the papers had been drawn in legal form. The Secretary of State has no discrimination in the matter. Attorney General Mayer also declared the filing of the papers to be proper, but expressed no opinion as to the form of the corporation.

B. T. WASHINGTON TO SEND A COLONY TO HONDURAS

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 27.—The Co-operative Tropical Fruit Company, which owns and operates extensive plantations in Honduras, just completed arrangements with Booker T. Washington by which the company agrees to transport to their 10,000-acre plantation in Honduras 5,000 Southern negroes. This statement was made today by William H. Coe, of New York, president of the fruit company concerned.

WEEKLY FAILURE REPORT.
Bradstreet's reports 276 failures in the United States during the week, against 279 for the previous week and 228, 240, 230, and 203 for the corresponding weeks of 1935 to 1932. The Middle States had 68; New England, 35; Southern, 60; Western, 50; North-western, 26; Pacific, 16, and Territories, 3. Canada had 33, against 33, for the preceding week. About 80 per cent of the total number of concerns failing had capital of $5,000 or less and 7 per cent had from $5,000 to $20,000 capital.

PERSONAL

Mary A. E. Reynolds, of 219 117th street, Chicago, says in a recent letter: "It is with a heart full of gratitude that I tell you Father John's Medicine has done for me. I had a terrible cough and was so weak that the family physician gave me up, giving me for three days to live. It was then that I began to take Father John's Medicine. Any person who saw me then would hardly know me now. I am so well and the credit is due to Father John's Medicine. My little brother drinks the medicine like water and thrives upon it." (Signed) Mary A. E. Reynolds, 219 117th street, Chicago, Ill.

Rev. Fr. D. J. Leonard, writing from Cambridge, N. Y., says: "A young lady of my parish was rescued from quick consumption by the use of Father John's Medicine. She is now well and very grateful for her recovery." (Signed) Fr. Leonard.

Mrs. Flora Clark, of Comellville, Pa., says: "After a severe cough, which lingered a year, no other medicine helping me, I have been cured by Father John's Medicine."

LARGE INCREASE OF EARNINGS ON B. R. T.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company yesterday all the retiring stockholders were re-elected.

The earnings of the system continue to show large increases, according to the reports given out. In December, 1935, the increase aggregated about $177,000, or $5,700 a day. Up to yesterday, in the present month, the increase more than a year ago was at the rate of nearly $6,000 a day, it is said. Estimates made yesterday by responsible men as to the earnings of the system for the fiscal year, puts them at $18,500,000, as compared with $16,500,000 for the previous year.

Convicts.

DECATUR, Ala., Jan. 27.—With shackles of iron riveted on his ankles and with a pick in his hands, Robert Beachman, a well-to-do jeweler, was forced to work on the streets here today with a gang of white and negro city convicts and with a boss, an ignorant white man, standing over him.

Before Mayor Henry A. Skeggs, in police court, Mrs. Beachman testified this morning that Mrs. Beachman had knocked her down and threatened to kill her. Under Alabama law a wife-beater is forced to work in a coal mine or on city streets. Beachman was fined $5 and costs and sentenced to thirty days on the streets for cursing in the presence of his wife, and was fined $5 and costs and sentenced to thirty days on the streets for cursing her.

Beachman tried unsuccessfully to appeal to the circuit court by filing a bond.

Beachman, who is fifty years of age, was here about 1880 from Rochester, N. Y., where he and his wife had lived for years. He owns valuable business and residence property here, most of which is in his wife's name. For some years he was a leader in the First Presbyterian Church. The Beachmans have a married son and daughter in Texas and a son of fourteen living here.

Beachman is spending tonight as a convict in a dingy cell of the city jail along with other white and negro prisoners.

HELSENGFORS, Finland, Jan. 27.—All traces of the regime of terrorism and reaction, which prevailed during the administration of former Governor General Bobrikoff, the hated governor whose cruelties were responsible for his assassination, are disappearing in this country and Finland is rapidly becoming entirely free.

New regulations are being put into effect almost daily by which the old liberties of the Finns are being restored and new rights granted. The czar has consented to the removal of all the reactionary officials, most of whom were Russians, and has agreed that the future only of Finns shall be eligible to hold public offices.

H. G. DAVIS SPEAKS X

CONVICT SECRETLY WEDS OLD SWEETHEART

Governor of Iowa Will Be Asked to Pardon Man Who Killed Another While Under the Influence of Liquor.

IOVA CITY, Jan. 27.—Under a penitentiary sentence, his case now on appeal to the supreme court, Matt Maher, convicted of complicity in the murder of John Ezecheck here last summer, was secretly married to his sweetheart on a lifetime on January 17. The incident connected with this peculiar romance, which have just come to light, are considered the most remarkable in the history of the country.

Maher is the son of a prominent family which has lived in Iowa City for the past forty years. He had not been engaged in any particular business previous to the crime of which he now stands convicted, though he was about to do so last summer. Following the establishment of his new venture, he was to have been married to Miss Elizabeth Haskins, the daughter of a wealthy Bohemian family of this country.

Last summer, Maher's company with three other young men, started out to paint the town, and in the course of their celebration, John Ezecheck, who had been remonstrating with them, was struck by one of them, fell heavily on the brick paving and died within twenty-four hours. All of the party have been tried and sentenced to varying terms in the State penitentiary. Maher refused to accept the trial in the county court as conclusive, and has appealed his case to the supreme court, members of his family appearing to give him aid.

Since the time the case went to the supreme court it is understood that Maher's attorneys would ask the pardon of the governor and, as an additional reason for his being granted, his marriage with his old sweetheart was quietly celebrated. Since the marriage the couple have been living at Maher's home, where they will reside until the case is settled in the supreme court. In the event that Maher is not released, his wife will return to her parents to await his eventual release.
